we are your IT solution

Friendly, Professional, Knowledgeable

If you could cut us open and count the rings (please don't) you'd see that Minerva have been responsible for IT solutions for almost as long as there have been IT solutions.

You may be based out of a single location with anything between 5 seats to 100s or multi-national, remote users, home workers or even part of a call centre. Minerva's team works with you and your budget to ensure you get the best tools for the job.

We've been building IT infrastructures for decades and our expertise and high quality service can be seen by how many clients we have been servicing for so long. Our clients are loyal for a reason, they know that if things change we are there to help.

... in short, we are your IT solution.
